About Boyd Jentsch, President, SibU:

When he was fat and forty, Boyd was happy practicing Securities Law, and being a Strategic Marketing consultant. Not exactly fit at fifty, Boyd’s life changed dramatically when he lost his mother to the effects of life-long obesity. Since that time he has made the pursuit of a vibrant lifestyle a passion.

A former Army Captain and management consultant, with over 30 years experience advising and running Network Marketing companies, Boyd has joined his passionate health pursuits with SibU.
